SUNSHINE AND GOOD VIBES, for the summer is now upon us. Although the solstice isn't until the 21st, it's not too early to enjoy the sun! Get outside and enjoy the warmer weather before it's too hot to celebrate Flag Day or Father's Day in the backyard, at the park, or around the town. But then when the sun does bear down, we invite you to make some lemonade, relax, and tune into KMOS PBS.

The Great American Recipe is coming back to KMOS PBS for Season 2 on June 19th, so be sure to tune your TV to KMOS 6.1 or stream it online. We are bursting with excitement for this new season, and would like to share the sensation with you through a Social Media Giveaway! Simply follow us on Instagram and Facebook so you don't miss your opportunity to claim your spot! Prizes may include cookbooks, kitchen utensils, and/or exclusive Great American Recipe materials! Follow us @KMOSTV and check in regularly so you don't miss out!

We hope that we can count on your support during our June Pledge Drive, which is full of drama, history, creativity and health updates, we have so many good programs. And for those who call or donate online, we have a variety of 'thank you gifts' from which to choose. We are delighted to register your support anytime, not just during the official drive which runs June 3 through and June 11. Visit KMOS.org and click 'DONATE' or call at our toll free number 1-800-753-3436 to make your pledge!

Now is the time to request your FREE Summer Activity Kits for your children. To do so, call 1-800-753-3436 or send us a message on social media to get your packet mailed to you free of charge! Also take a moment to look through the assortment of free activities and educational materials provided on PBS LearningMedia. Each lesson is developed in accordance with local state of Missouri educational standards.

Thank you to all of our generous donors who continue to show your ongoing support for KMOS PBS. Everyday we strive to provide high quality, engaging, and educational content to our community. We are only able to do this through the generosity of donors like yourself. On behalf of everyone at KMOS PBS we are very grateful for your support!

KMOS RECOGNIZES OUTSTANDING UCM STUDENTS

Since before KMOS first came on the air in 1979, the station has depended on students attending UCM for assistance in all areas of our operation. In return, they receive a unique hands-on experience that enhances their classroom lessons. And each year the staff holds a banquet to thank them for their contributions throughout the year.

During the event, some students are selected by their peers to receive awards for outstanding achievement - the recipients for 2023 are listed below.

In addition, three students were presented with certificates representing financial assistance provided by station supporters. The first two are scholarships named for individuals responsible for the early success of KMOS, and established by members of the KMOS Community Advisory Board. The John E. Bradley and Fred Hunt Scholarships were awarded to Kayla Blankenship and Ellie Boman, respectively.

Bryan Frye recieved the inaugural Bill Kountz, Jr. Media Fellowship, designated by Mr. Kountz to assist KMOS students while on an internship with public media entities in large markets. In this case, Bryan will spend the summer working at PBS Headquarters!

Congratulations to all of our students, we're very proud of them, and the work they do on behalf of KMOS, our viewers and members!

GREAT AMERICAN RECIPE
MONDAYS STARTING JUNE 19

Silvia Martinez, a California home cook who grew up making Mexican dishes she learned from her grandmother, aunts, and mother, won season 1 of The Great American Recipe. Silvia's heartwarming personal stories and delicious recipes, which combine the flavors of her home country with the bounty of California produce, repeatedly charmed judges (l-r) Leah Cohen, Graham Elliot and Tiffany Derry, as well as host Alejandra Ramos. Now get ready for season 2!

The uplifting cooking competition series celebrates the multiculturalism that makes American food unique and iconic. From family favorites passed down through generations to internationally influenced recipes that are becoming mainstays of American cuisine, the series mixes camaraderie with competition, revealing rich personal stories and the inspiration behind the contestant's favorite recipes.

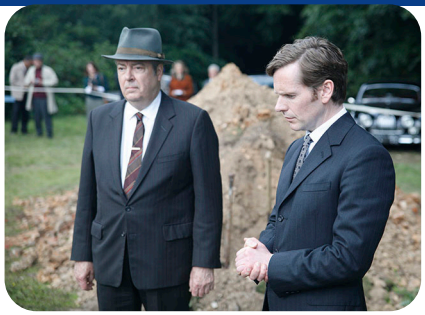
Independent Lens: Mama Bears
June 20 at 9 p.m.

Spread across the country and connected through private Facebook support groups, a network of women call themselves "mama bears" because of the ferocity with which they fight for the rights of their LGBTQ+ children. Though many of these mothers may have grown up as fundamentalist, evangelical Christians, they are now risking losing friends, families, and faith communities to champion their kids - even if it challenges their belief systems.

The documentary follows the journeys taken by Kimberly Shappley and Sara Cunningham. Shappley shares her story of raising her young transgender daughter and how it led her to navigate new territory during the controversial bathroom bill legislation introduced in Texas. Cunningham opens up about connecting with and finding support from other mothers of LGBTQ+ children and how it led her to create Free Mom Hugs, a nonprofit and movement that brings groups of fellow mama bears to Pride Parades and events across the country every year to offer support. Through these stories and others from the mama bears' Facebook group, the documentary illuminates the unequivocal power of unconditional love in the fight for LGBTQ+ rights.

Endeavour, The Final Season

Sundays at 8 p.m., June 18 - July 2



The curtain drops on the acclaimed detective series, portraying the early years of brooding, gifted Sergeant Endeavour Morse of Thames Valley police in Oxford, starring Shaun Evans as Morse and Rogel Allam as his streetwise superior, DCI Fred Thursday. The ninth and final season opens in spring 1972 with DS Morse rejoining the force after an extended leave to treat his drinking problem. The death of an informant means Morse and Thursday must face the prospect that the unresolved Blenheim Vale case has resurfaced. With characters from former seasons popping up in a grand finale, Morse must resolve his professional and romantic future.

Ridley

Sundays at 7 p.m., begins June 18

Retired Detective Inspector Alex Ridley is called back to advise on a complex and compelling murder case by his replacement and former protege DI Carol Farman. Carol is keen to access Ridley's unique insight into crime-solving which served them so well in the past, but the investigation takes a dark and unexpected twist.

Stars Sanjeev Bhaskar, The Indian Doctor, and Nicola Walker, Annika on Masterpiece

In the series' most dramatic season, Cassie and Sunny investigate a cold case with alarming links to the police force. Also, Cassie decides to retire from the police force, but faces a dilemma when she discovers she isn't entitled to her full pension until she's reached 30 years of service. Meanwhile, a corpse is discovered in a scrap yard, his features frozen in time. Four suspects emerge. All four have links to the law and attended the same police training course back in 1989. Since then their lives have gone in very different directions. Some have thrived and others have faltered. But exactly who is fighting for justice? Can the police force ever really be trusted? And will Cassie and Sunny find themselves on the wrong side of the law?

Carole King: Home Again - Live In Central Park

June 4 at 10 p.m.

This new feature-length concert documentary presents music icon Carole King's triumphant May 26, 1973 homecoming concert in Central Park before an estimated audience of 100,000. Directed by George Scott and produced by Lou Adler and John McDermott, the film presents the complete multi-camera 16mm footage filmed and recorded by Adler in 1973 but never released.

Alongside the complete performance footage - first of Carole solo, on piano, then fronting a powerhouse 11-piece band - is the behind-the-scenes story of King's remarkable transformation from an in-demand staff song-writer to an iconic artist in her own right. New interviews with King, Adler, Ron Delsenser, and legendary Woodstock and Monterey Pop lighting and stage manager Chip Monck set the scene for her extraordinary performance.

Mavis Staples at Symphony Center, Chicago

June 10 at 9 p.m.

Civil rights icon and living legend Mavis Staples returned home to Chicago and Symphony Center for one night only on February 4, 2023. With a presence "so unfailingly joyful that you never take your eyes off her" (The New Yorker), Staples brought her iconic smoky sound to Orchestra Hall in a scintillating evening of soul, gospel, and her signature brand of R&B. Performances include "Slippery People," made famous by Talking Heads and "For What's It Worth," by Buffalo Springfield, along with standards that include "Respect Yourself," "Let's Do It Again," and "No Time for Crying."

Roy Orbison & Friends - A Black and White Night

June 3 at 6:30 p.m.

When David Lynch's landmark film Blue Velvet was released in 1986, Roy Orbison's "In Dreams" was prominently featured on the soundtrack. Although Orbison had been out of the limelight for some time, the film helped spark new interest in his music. On September 30, 1987, Orbison, then 51, staged a remarkable comeback concert at the Cocoanut Grove nightclub in Los Angeles with the help of guest musicians whom he had influenced: Jackson Browne, T Bone Burnett, Elvis Costello, k.d. lang, Bonnie Raitt, J.D. Souther, Bruce Springsteen, Tom Waits and Jennifer Warnes. The all-star performance was turned into a television special, which aired the following January, less than a year before the icon's untimely passing.

Father's Day Weekend
June 16-18

Join Alma, Daniel Tiger, Dinosaur Train, and Wordgirl to celebrate the role of dads! Alma, Eddie, and Junior need inspiration for the "hero song" they are writing for Papi, so they join him as he tries to catch a lost parrot named Wanda. While Daniel and Dan remember that it doesn't matter what they do, they just enjoy being together.
