MEMBER NEWS

Josh Tomlinson

General Manager

tomlinson@ucmo.edu

Most of the time when I write this update, I am writing about the things that are happening on-air. For this one I would like to write about something that is happening behind the scenes. At the end of May we said 'bon voyage' to our longtime programmer, Michael O'Keefe. After nearly 43 years of service to KMOS-PBS, Michael has retired and gone on to new things. He started at KMOS in 1980 as a student with Central Missouri State University (now the University of Central Missouri). In 1982 he joined the professional staff in the traffic and programming department working his way up to Program Director, a position he has held for most of that time. He has had many other roles at KMOS, from on-air talent to "Inspector Ken's" assistant for the KMOS Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego contest in the '90s. He also served as interim General Manager from 2012 to 2014. All these jobs he took on with his signature wit and good humor taking each task seriously, but not too seriously. I first met Michael when I was a student working in KMOS

Master Control. On one memorable occasion I had to call him about missing the recording of McLaughlin Group he replied jokingly with "Oh, my parents are going to be mad at you."

Early reunion of CMS-TV and KMOS staff and students.

outdoors - volunteering with various nature organizations and spending time looking for birds while avoiding the snakes. While we will certainly miss having him at KMOS-PBS. His good work and humor will always be a part of the station. Michael don't be a stranger.

Caregiving

June 24 at 8 p.m.

In the U.S., more than 53 million family caregivers are unpaid, providing 34 billion hours of care annually, amounting to an estimated $67 billion in personal lost earnings. As caregiving in America faces the twin pressures of an aging baby boomer generation and rising life expectancy, the United States’ long-term care system threatens to tip into crisis. The film will personalize this urgent national issue through stories from caregivers and interviews with experts as they fight to give caregivers the security and support they provide for so many others.

shape our approach to caregiving today and the future possibilities; the lives of caregivers and their relationships with those in their care; the interpersonal and economic pressures faced by caregivers; and the broader societal context in which caregiving operates on the margins, yet affects everyone.
