CELEBRATE THE EARTH WITH KMOS PBS!

April is a time dedicated to celebrating our remarkable planet Earth, a place we are incredibly fortunate to call home. Reflecting on the wonders of the world, whether it's the diverse cuisines we enjoy, the breathtaking natural landscapes, or the fascinating creatures that inhabit our planet, fills us with gratitude and awe. At KMOS PBS, we strive to provide you with a window of discovery through our specially curated programs like Nature and NOVA, offering fresh perspectives on the world around us. Your generous donations play a vital role in supporting our mission to inspire wonder, curiosity, and imagination in our community.

While we are thinking about the environment, let's talk about recycling. Specifically, recycling your old car! We all know the saying "one man's junk is another man's treasure." This holds true with your old vehicle too. Making a vehicle donation to KMOS PBS means you are clearing your valuable space whilst making a tax deductible donation to a worthwhile non-profit! Go to kmos.careasy.org to make your donation today!

(pictured with Chris, left to right,) the ancient city of Petra in Jordan with comedian, actor and writer Guz Khan and Niagara Falls in Canada with Liza Tarbuck (Upstart Crow.) The companion's job is to provide audio descriptions of the wonders, and also try to engage Chris' other senses, to prove that there's so much more to those famous landmarks than what they look like. Can they convince Chris it's worth getting off his couch after all?

Follow NASA's real-life attempts to prepare astronauts for a journey to meet the goal of sending astronauts to Mars. It's a journey that would require a three-year absence from Earth, during which communication in real time would be impossible due to the immense distance. In this documentary we meet the psychologists whose job is to keep astronauts mentally stable in outer space, as they are caught between their dream of reaching new frontiers and their basic human need to stay connected to home.

In the next decade, NASA intends to send astronauts to Mars for the first time. To succeed, crew members must overcome unprecedented life-threatening challenges. And while many of these hazards are physical, the most elusive are psychological. Throughout their three-year absence, crew members won't be able to communicate with Earth in real time due to the immense distance. The psychological impact of this level of disconnectedness and isolation - both from mission control and loved ones - is impossible to predict, endangering the mission itself.

Directed to mitigate this threat is Dr.

Al Holland, a NASA psychologist whose job is to keep astronauts mentally stable in space. Space: The Longest Goodbye follows Holland, rookie astronauts Kayla Barron and Matthias Maurer, and former astronaut Cady Coleman, among others, as they grapple with the tension between their dream of reaching new frontiers and their basic human need to stay connected to home. This conflict transcends space travel: how do humans balance the quest for progress with a deep connection to history and each other?

"It's a documentary about courage, intelligence, community, and trust for those brave enough and willing to reach new frontiers. But most importantly, it is about sacrifice."

After Action documents the experiences of diverse veterans from across the country. Hosted by Air Force combat veteran Stacy Pearsall (pictured center,) this powerful series reveals what life is for these American heroes before, during and after action.

Pearsall is a retired Air Force Staff Sergeant and former aerial combat photojournalist who earned the Bronze Star Medal and Air Force Commendation with Valor for combat actions in Iraq. Though combat disabled and retired from military service, Pearsall has not let her disabilities hold her back- a sentiment she shares with many of the series' guests. With her service animal, America's Vet Dogs Charlie, by her side, Pearsall sits down for honest conversations with former service members as they discuss their trials and triumphs. Pearsall's own struggles to reconnect with society challenges her fellow veterans to probe deeper into their stories, helping to provide a better appreciation for those who have served.

Understanding Autism - May 8

Filmed in over 40 cities in the U.S., Canada and UK, the film follows the journey of director Scott Steindorff as he aims to discover more about his own autism. Scott speaks to autistic children and adults all across the spectrum, from non-speaking to twice gifted. To bring viewers deeper into the understanding of what autism is, he also interviews the top researchers, scientists, doctors and psychologists in the world. The film seeks to reframe the understanding and perception of autism by focusing on the identification, diagnosis and treatment of various neurodivergences, highlighting the amazing talents and love of neurodiversity.

Inside Our Autistic Minds - May 15 & 22

Chris Packham harnesses the technology of CGI, animation and pioneering virtual reality projects to transform the lives of four autistic people who are fed up with being misunderstood (pictured: one of the subjects and his family.) These contributors of different ages and from across the spectrum feel constrained by not being able to share the workings of their minds with friend, family and colleagues. Chris wants to change how the people around the contributors understand their condition through empathy and understanding so that they can truly comprehend autism and learn how to improve autistic lives.
